Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

In the press dispatches we read that Germany's present airplane operations along the English coast is intended to "soften" the people. In the current Saturday Evening Post we read a long diatribe against the President for putting us into the European war on the side of the Allies on June 10th. The Post accuses the President of circumventing the Hague international agreement which forbids neutral governments selling arms, war vessels, or fighting equipment to nations at war. The circumvention consists in directing the army and navy officers to return material purchased to the manufacturers, and probably, directing the manufacturers to make private sale to the Allies.

The editor of the Saturday Evening Post draws a fearsome picture of German wrath. Hitler may not declare war now, but assuredly he will not forget this evasion of the Hague covenants, this indirect method of evading international law, and, the editor also thinks in direct violation of the Constitution. That is, the Executive by an indirect route, has put us into the war without a vote of Congress.

Now let us confess that we have never liked the leadership or the personality of Mr. Roosevelt. But so far as the President's foreign policy is concerned, in most particulars, especially in things done rather than said, we feel that his course meets with the approval of most thinking Americans. There are plenty of things wrong with his domestic policies as the "stabilized depression" attests, but we think the Post editor has been guilty of that specious reasoning which characterizes too many political editorial salvos.

In the first place Hitler already has a lot to remember about the United States. He remembers undoubtedly that it was the A. E. F. that tipped the scales against Germany in the last World War. What we add now, from a practical standpoint, will mean little in the vengeance we may be sure he hopes to wreak upon us. A man who "softens" friendly or enemy nations with equal thoroughness to achieve his ends, will in due time attempt to "soften" the American people, if he believes it worth while. Nothing we do or omit to do, will have any effect on his decisions. The Post's editor might better spend his time suggesting things we can do to aid England, short of sending troops. As a matter of fact the British need no troops but they do need plenty of airplanes. Recent reports indicate that the number of planes the English are receiving from our manufacturers is constantly increasing. And, they seem to be better and faster planes than the Germans are making.

If the situation were not so desperate, from the standpoint of our own national safety, the Post's complaint that the President is taking us into war by an oblique route, violating the spirit, if not the letter of the Constitution, might give us pause. Indeed we suspect that the President has no very nice regard for means, provided he thinks the end desirable. Witness his bill to pack the Supreme Court. But desperate situations require desperate measures, and every ounce of strength we can give to England in this world crisis, tends to postpone the day when we shall clash with totalitarian Europe in defense of this hemisphere. We need time to perfect our defense.

We disapprove the Post editorial because, since there is plenty to be said in valid criticism of the President's domestic policies, it seems a waste of time, paper and ink to find fault with his aid to the Allies, which the Gallup poll reveals the great majority of Americans heartily approves.

After all, sound domestic policies are fundamental to our policies in foreign affairs. Until the Dies committee began functioning the whole fabric of our national life was shot through with the dissension caused by subversive elements which were fostered by, for instance, such persons as the Secretary of Labor, who did not know whether sit-down strikes were legal or not. "They had not been tested in the courts." Subversive activities have been promoted by

PLANS FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENTS ARE ENDORSED

The chamber of commerce and the Rotary club have passed resolutions urging the reconstruction of the highway between Nevada City and Auburn.

Secretary H. F. Sofge of the local chamber said he will present a similar resolution for endorsement by the board of supervisors at its next meeting.

Recently at a joint meeting of the Nevada City, Grass Valley and Auburn chambers at Auburn plans were inaugurated for a drive to secure appropriations for the improving of the road. Some of the most dangerous curves on the road between Grass Valley and Auburn are being eliminated but proponents of the plan are desirious of a new route the entire distance, incuding a four lane highway between Grass Valley and Nevada City.

The resolution adopted by the local chamber and Rotary club and to be presented for consideration to the supervisors is as follows:

Whereas, Primary route 49 between Auburn, Grass Valley and Nevada City is a central primary route connecting the two county seats of Placer and Nevada Counties and has an especially heavy volume of traffic, and

Whereas the present new construction on a small part of the route materially aids the deficiencies that have existed,

Whereas, This route is an essential link between Grass Valley and Nevada City, the largest gold mining district in the world, wherein resides a population of some 18,000 souls who have daily dependence upon this route for their economic life, and

Whereas, the volume of truck traffic engaged in hauling mining machinery, concentrates and supplies has increased to the degree where it is now definitely hazardous, not only to economic and tourist travel, but also to the numerous school busses which operate over its entire length;

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, that this group, does hereby urge immediate reconstruction of the remaining portion of the road.

BILL COLLECTORS HAVE BAD TIME WITH LOCAL MAN

Samuel Gould let it be known to two out of town bill collectors in no uncertain terms he is not responsible for the debts of his son.

When the bill collectors got rough with Gould and apparently threatened him with bodily harm, the local man, who is close to 70 years of age, clipped one of them on the chin with his fist, rendering him helpless. A similar fate was dealt the other collector, only a weapon other than his fist was used.

Gould was haled into the court of Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve on a charge of battery. After learning of the circumstances of the case, Judge Gildersleeve took the matter under advisement. Until a decision is rendered, Gould is free on his own recognizance. The battery complaint was signed by Robert Newell.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary in Grass Valley for Mrs. Florence Young, 45, who died Thursday in Oakland from bronchial pneumonia. Burial was in the Elm Ridge Cemetery.

DRIVE CONTINUES AGAINST GOLD ACT LAW VIOLATORS

Continuing their drive against highgraders in Nevada County, federal authorities took into custody William Brakey, 75, in Grass Valley and transferred him to Reno, Nev., to face a charge of possessing sponge gold without a federal ermit.

Brakey's son, Emerson L. (Smiley) Brakey, is being held in Sacramento on a gold reserves act charge. The younger Brakey, Emmett Costello, George Fertig and Martin Bloomquist, all of Nevada City, were recently arrested by federal officers. Fertig and Bloomquist were set free because of lack of evidence and Costello has been released on $1500 bail pending his trial in September. Bail is expected also to be raised for the younger Brakey.

GOOD PEAR CROP EXPECTED HERE

Agricultural Commissioner L. G. Lageson said here today the Nevada County pear crop this year will be excellent.

Marketing of the fruit, which will start soon, will be earlier than usual. A good market is anticipated for the pears, which will be shipped to the eastern cities.

Although the pear crop is better than usual with an excellent grade of fruit, Commissioner Lageson said the apple crop will be somewhat less than last year. The quality of the apples, however, will remain high.

GOOD LAKE FISHING CONTINUES IN COUNTY

Lake fishing in the Nevada and Sierra County district continues good, judging from reports of anglers.

John Miller of Folsom, accompanied by H. F. Nolan and Ed Lambrecht of Grass Valley, caught a limit last week in one of the Nevada County lakes.

Reports from Fordyce are that the fishing is at its best there. From Downieville comes word many limits ae being caught from Sardine, Webber and other lakes.

VICTIM OF CAR CRASH INTERRED BESIDE WIFE

Final rites for Archie Robert Pitts, 58, who died in the Miners Hospital here from automobile accident injuries, were conducted in Grass Valley Saturday with burial in the Elm Ridge Cemetery beside the body of his wife, who was killed instantly in the automobile crash. The funeral services were under the direction of the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary.

Pitts, pumpman at the North Star Mine, died a few hours after the funeral services for his wife, Blanche were held. The accident which claimed the lives of the prominent Grass Valley couple occurred near Auburn.

The Coordinating Council's Summer Recreation program at Pioneer Park is meeting with excellent success. An average attendanee of 60 per day is reported at the various recreational classes.

Edward Frantz, high school athletic coach, is in charge of the recreational program. He reports the program, which will come to a close on August 24, is arousing interest among the older children this year.

Dancing instruction every afternoon is attracting considerable interest. Walter St. John of Nevada City has donated the phonograph and records for the dancing instruction classes.

The Nevada City council just recently appropriated $250 to assist in carrying on the program, which has the endorsement of all civic organizations.

The permanent program for each week day is as follows:

SOLARO TO TAKE NEW JOB AUG. 1

Max Solaro, appointed by the city council to succeed W. G. Robson as chief of police, will take over his new duties on August 1.

Robson will act as the chief until the first of the month and will assist Solaro in learning the routine.

Solaro has given no indication as to whom he will select as the new city officer, the appointment of whom was authorized by the council.

Solaro, although he will be the chief of the city police, will retain his duties as city fireman. When away from the city hall, Solaro will instruct one of the police officers to handle the fire calls.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS TO BE CONSIDERED

Highway improvements to be considered by the state chamber of commerce highway committee in its recommendations for inclusion in the state highway budget will be the eliminating of the bottleneck on the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway at Bear Valley and the constructing of a four lane highway between Nevada City and Grass Valley.

The two improvements were suggested by H. F. (Si) Sofge, secretary of the local chamber.

Sofge said if the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway through Bear Valley is improved the Greyhound Bus Company is willing to establish a line through Nevada City.

Statistics, Sofge says, shows the Nevada City-Grass Valley Highway rates fifth in the volume of traffic in the state and should be given consideration for a four lane highway project. Seventy one per cent of the automobile accidents in this area reportedly occur on the four miles of highway between the two cities.

SEAL COAT FOR HIGHWAY
The applying of a seal coat to 37 miles of state highway in Nevada, Sierra, Sacramento, Placer and El Dorado Counties will start soon.

The Granite Construction Company of Watsonville submitted a low bid of $23,478 for the job, one of eight highway projects on which work will start in the near future.

The board of supervisors met today as a board of equalization to hear complaints against tax assessments on property.

BEWARE HOMOSEXUAL MANIAC, SHERIFF WARNS

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen today warned Nevada City district residents to be on the lookout for a homosexual maniac, who committed an offense Fridya night against a male resident of Willow Valley.

The sheriff reports the maniac forced the Willow Valley man to submit to his advances at gunpoint.

The victim, whose name is being withheld, was taken to the Nevada County Hospital for treatment.

The officers said the crime was one of the most revolting in their experience. A wide-spread search is being made for the maniac.

BOOTH SPACE AT STATE FAIR WILL BE DOUBLE SIZE

Nevada County's booth at the state fair in Sacramento this year will be twice as large as last year.

Preparations are now being made by W. W. Esterly and Agricultural Commissioner L. G. Lageson for the state fair display, which will feature the agricultural resources of the county as well as mining.

The Nevada County booth will be in the same location as last year with the additional space of last year's Santa Cruz booth added.

Apples and pears will be prominently displayed. As usual, the county's mineral exhibit, which annually wins many prizes, will be of special interest to state fair visitors.

ELEANOR F. ZINK SUCCUMBS FROM LENGTHY ILLNESS

Death Saturday in San Francisco claimed Mrs. Eleanor Foote Zink, 30, former Nevada City resident who has many relatives living in this district. The funeral services will be held in Chico this week.

The deceased was born and educated in Grass Valley, where she was employed in the telephone office for five years. She and her husband moved to Chico in 1934. Friends here were shocked to learn of her death although she had been ill for seven months.

SACRAMENTO, July 15.—(UP)—Allocation of $24,978,841 from gasoline tax revenues to counties and cities of the state during the fiscal year ended June 30 was announced today by Director of Public Works Frank W. Clark.

Net revenue of the three-cent per gallon gasoline tax was $49,957,683. One third, or $16,652,561, was divided among the 58 counties and an additional one-sixth, amounting to $8,326,280 was earmarked for highway improvements on major city streets. The remainder was retained for state highway purposes.

The allocation to Nevada County for the fiscal year was $70,732 and shares allotted to the various cities in the county were as follows: Grass Valley $7,369; Nevada City, $3,284.

ORGANIZATION BODY TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a regular meeting at the City Hall on Wednesday night, at which time a final report will be made by the chamber's Fourth of July committee on the celebration affairs.

H. F. Sofge, secretary, urges any one who has a bill against the chamber for the Fourth celebration to present it immediately.

PRELIMINARY HEARING WEDNES. FOR ROBT. WEAR

Robert Wear, 56, charged in the Grass Valey Justice Court Saturday with the murder of his brother, Jerry Wear, 62, will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse on Wednesday.

The murder complaint against the brother was signed by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen.

Coroner A. M. Holmes will set a date for an inquest into Jerry Wear's death tonight when he returns here from an out of town business trip.

The murder charge against Robert is an aftermath of sensational developments in his brother's death, which at first was believed due to meningitis, caused by alcoholism. Following Jerry's death attendants at the county hospital, where he was confined two weeks before he died, were informed by a Grass Valley woman she saw the deceased struck on the head with a jug by his brother. In the meantime Jerry had been buried and Coroner Holmes was forced to have the body exhumed for an autopsy, which revealed death was due to a skull fracture and not acute alcoholism, as believed.

The brother was arrested immediately and despite his denial of the fratricide, the murder complaint was filed against him. Robert told the officers his brother suffered the head injury in a fall against a tree.

Undersheriff William D. Woods took Robert to Grass Valley Friday to visit the aged mother of the accused. The mother is reported in a serious condition from shock and worry as a result of the death of one son and the arrest of another for the murder.

Brother Philip, whose given name was Edward Daniel O'Leary, had been suffering from heart trouble, his friends reported to the coroner here.

STATE FORESTRY FIRE FIGHTING CREWS KEPT BUSY IN VICINITY

The State Division of Forestry fire fighting crews have been busy during the past several days on grass, timber and residence fires.

On Friday the state crews answered three calls. They prevented flames which destroyed a six room house owned by the Quaker Hill Mining Company on Greenhorn Creek from spreading; extinguished a grass fire near Lake Olympia and helped the Nevada City Fire Department put out a fire on Piety Hill, which started up again from last Monday's blaze. Three miners living in the Quaker Hill house lost everything but their bedding Damage was estimated at $500.

Saturday one call came into the fire headquarters. It was a timber fire on the Neitnertz property on the Colfax Highway. Damage was confined to two acres.

A fire yesterday near Spenceville, started by a cigarette thrown from a car, was quickly controlled after two acres of grass was burned.

FIRE BURNS ACRE AT 5-MILE HOUSE

Fire fighting crews from the Tahoe National Forest and State Division of Forestry controlled a fire late Thursday near the Five Mile House after it burned an acre of timberland.

Lessons From 1917

As the gigantic machinery of rearmament swings into action along the entire military and industrial front, the nation's mind goes back to a similar period in 1917—a period that holds disquieting memories for taxpayers, businessmen and army supply commander. Waste and confusion prevailed then. Billions were wasted building ships that leaked at every steam and airplanes unfit for flight; and industry, striving to swing into high gear for war, was hamstrung by political incompetence and hobbled with red tape.

That those lessons are being heeded at the outset of the great defense program of 1940 is encouraging news. Industrial leaders are being called in on industrial problems. Speaking of the work of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, Ralph Budd, veteran railroad executive, said this week: "The departments are quite distinct, and mine, of course, is transportation. I have nothing to do with the problem of raw materials, which Mr. Stettinius handles, nor with manufacturing, which is Mr. Knudsen's task." That sort of organization has the ring of sound sense to it! "So far as the movement of freight is concerned," Mr. Budd states further, "I don't believe that the government should get into the transportation business. It is my desire not to intervene with management in any way, but to try to cooperate with management to look ahead as far as possible and to anticipate requirements." This type of planning is far different from that of 1917, when the hands of railroad managements were arbitrarily tied and transport experts were replaced at the helm by political appointees. Even in recent peace years, the carriers, in common with many other basic industries, have been sorely hampered in "looking ahead and anticipating requirements" by bureaucratic interference and domination. The taxpayers who foot the bills, and the business men who place their industrial resources at the nation's disposal, will hope that the common sense start will be adhered to—that the lessons of 1917 will not be forgotten as the pace of national defense quickens.—Contributed.

They Start With California

The See America First program adopted by travel-minded Americans since, one by one, vacation lands across the Atlantic have been crossed off the list by war, seems to have developed "start with California" as an additional slogan.

Reports from mountain and beach resorts, tourists camps and hotels, filling stations and restaurants, indicate that the stream of auto tourists is greater than that of record-breaking 1939.

Streamlined trains are adding throngs who are taking advantage of low transcontinental round-trip rates for the second exposition year.

And this week the Maritime Commission reports that luxury liner service for sea-going vacationists, long interrupted, will be resumed shortly with restoration of the liners Washington and Manhattan to the New York-California run.

No matter how much ground American tourists cover—whether they include Mexico, South America and the Orient in their holiday wanderings—they begin with the state that has the most to offer in scenic beauty and pleasure. They start with California!—Contributed.

NEV. CITY TROOP SENDS 23 SCOUTS TO PAHATSI

Rotary sponsored Troop 24 will have registered 23 out of their 32 scouts at the council operated scout camp on the Donner Summit this summer.

The large representation is primarily due to the careful planning through the year by the scoutmaster and troop committee. The scouts have worked hard and saved their money so that they could participate and all are having the time of their scouting lives.

The trip to camp started off with twenty three boys going on the council conducted trip to scout day at Treasure Island last Saturday. This trip including the fair, luncheon, and admission to the fair was taken by the troop as the reward for winning the council conducted advancement contests during the year. Following the day at the fair the scouts went by camp bus to the camp arriving there early Sunday morning. Since then it has been one great experience of adventures and good times with plenty of swimming, boating, fishing, hiking to faraway places, warm campfires, thrilling sound motion pictures with real out door stories, scoutcraft, test passing, treasure hunts, some work and lots of good food to eat.

Mrs. Henpeck (at a movie)—"Is your seat comfortable?"

Mr. Henpeck—"Yes, my lov.e"

"Have you a good view of the screen?"

"Perfect, dear."

"Are you bothered by the conversation of the people on the other side of me?"

"No, darling."

"Then change seats with me."

LIGHTNING FIRES ON DECREASE IN TAHOE NATIONAL FOREST AREA

Acts of God are not so frequently responsible for Tahoe National Forest fires this year as last, according to statistics filed by Central Dispatcher E. M Stone at Nevada City headquarters, there being only one lightning fire to date as compared to 8 for the same period for the last year. The hand of man does not show very encouraging discipline, though, since smokers have been responsible for 13 fires to date as compared to 17 last year for a corresponding period. Debris burning accounted for three fires with only one to date last year and the forest has had one incendiary fire, whereas, to this date last year, they had a clean record.

NO SMOKING WARNING ISSUED BY FOREST

"Read the Signs," is the advice of Tahoe National Forest officers. District Ranger Beardsley of Forest Hill states that just recently he had to arrest a native of Forest Hill for smoking a cigarette in a car in an area closed to smoking. He had just passed a large sign warning motorists against smoking. Forest Supervisor Ellis advises forest users to read the yellow and black signs erected for their information since they usually contain information that will be useful to the user or may keep them out of trouble.

MOTOR FIRE

The Nevada City Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to Schreiber's Cafe Thursday night, quickly extinguishing a burning motor.

The firemen, led by Max Solaro, prevented the blaze from spreading to the building.

such administration pets as Harry Bridges and John L. Lewis, Nevada City had a taste of the New Deal philosophy when 23 strikers voted to throw 240 miners out of their jobs. "President Roosevelt is back of us!" the leaders yelled while they defied the county's peace officers.

The nation needs a change in direction. We need a leader who will see the picture of this nation, and its relation to the rest of the world, as a whole, and not as disjecta membra. Workers and employers, agriculture and manufacturing industry, little and big business men—all these comprise the nation. It is vital to national health that government by pressure groups shall cease and that national solidarity shall be restored by dealing justly with all groups in the interest of all the people.

NEVADA CITYANS SOUNDLY BEATEN IN BALL CONTEST

Minus the services of their regular pitcher and secondbaseman, the Nevada City ball players suffered a 17 to 7 defeat at the hands of the Auburn nine in a Foothill League game at Cashin's Field yesterday. The game was transferred to Nevada City at the last minute because of the Placer-Nevada League playoffs in Auburn, where the contest was originally scheduled to be played.

The visitors jumped on Mel Stinson, ordinarily the catcher, to take an early lead and were never headed. Alex McKenzie, ace chucker for the Nevada City squad, failed to put in an appearance. Jack Bloomquist, secondbaseman, was absent because of illness.

Manager Bill Clark of the Nevada City team said today the benefit dance held Saturday night at Lake Olympia for the social club was a success.

MINERS DOWNED BY MARYSVILLE

Marysville pulled a surprise upset over the Grass Valley Miners yesterday, 7 to 4, in a Sacramento Valley League contest. The defeat lowered the Miners into a tie for second place with Woodland. Chico and Redding are in a tie for the top spot.

The Miners were pulled down by a former teammate, Al Lazzarone, giving Marysville her first victory of the second half. Chico, behind the four hit pitching of LeGault, had no trouble in subduing Yuba City. Baldwin pitched a 4 to 2 victory for tne Redding nine against Woodland.

The score of the Grass Valley-Marysville game:

	R.	H.	E.
Marysville	7	6	2
Grass Valley	4	8	2

Batteries: Lazzarone and Borreani; Weidemann, Campbell and Brock.

DEER HUNTING PROSPECT GOOD

Advance indications point to a good season for deer hunters.

Joe Hunter, chief of the bureau of game conservation of the California Division of Fish and Game, said:

"With rains predominating up to the 6,000 foot level this year through out the state instead of the usual 4,000 feet, the deer have had the finest food crop in many years. Although the deer will be less concentrated in the countryside this year, they will be fat, the bucks with larger antler growth and in excellent condition."

Last year the deer kill in the state was 43,250, and Hunter says: "There is no reason why hunters should not have even greater success this season."

The season opens in this district on September 16. The estimated deer population of the state is between 400,000 and 450,000.

SOFT BALL SERIES IN GRASS VALLEY OPENS

Led by Dick Keene, the Nevada City Antlers got off to a good start in the Grass Valley softball league, defeating the I. O. O. F. squad by a score of 12 to 6 last Thursday night.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
N. C. Antlers	12	7	3
I. O. O. F.	6	3	7

Batteries: Hoskins and Fouyer; Davey and Mitchell.

WALLACE BEERY, 20-MULE TEAM, COMING THURS.

Walace Beery became the first film star to have his private flying field on location when he started work at Death Valley in "20 Mule Team," attraction that opens Thursday at the Nevada Theatre.

By arrangement of Lou Strohm, head of the M-G-M location department, with the Furnace Creek Inn, Beery was allotted the only hangar space at the nearby airport, a cleared space on the Valley floor. A landing space was kept cleared for him and a special wind sock erected.

Beery has flown to previous locations but has always had to land at the nearest airport where a car awaited him. This was the first time that he could land right at the "camp." The plane permitted him to fly back and forth from his Beverly Hills home so that he could keep an eye on his family, including his newly adopted daughter, Phyllis Ann.

Leo Carillo and Marjorie Rambeau are featured with Beery in "20 Mule Team," epic tale of adventure in Death Valley. Richard Thorpe directed.
